DIGI-NET INTRODUCES PARTNER PLUS PROGRAM

Program provides resellers the opportunity to incorporate Digi-Net's leading communication technologies with existing product offering

GAINESVILLE, FL, May 8, 2002 – Digi-Net Technologies, Inc., a leader in messaging technology for e-commerce and community building applications, today announced the launch of the Partner Plus Program.

The Partner Plus Program allows members to integrate Digi-Net's innovative solutions with their own offerings to enhance their product and service mix. Digi-Net's products include DigiChat – the market leader in Java chat, DigiPosts – the completely new Discussion Board Software, Hubz – the first truly web-based instant messaging application, and Groopz E-Commerce – the only eCRM solution that allows proactivity. The solutions address issues ranging from communications to community building, infrastructure to instant messaging and live customer support to proactive Web sales.

“The Partner Plus Program presents a brand new distribution channel for Digi-Net,” said Tom Pfeiffer, Digi-Net Business Development Manager. “More importantly, our products add value to our Partners' current product and service offerings.”

A convenient, secure, Web-based ordering system allows Digi-Net Partners to place software orders from any place, at any time. In addition to the ordering system, Partners have access to marketing materials, software and program updates and live access to a Program representative. Partners receive a generous discount off regular listed prices and have the ability to set their own retail price. Thus, Partners can customize their pricing to meet individual client's needs, while maintaining the ability to retain a substantial profit.

Digi-Net provides complete customer support allowing members to focus on their core competencies. Digi-Net partners will have access to technical support experts to answer questions and troubleshoot issues. Additionally, Digi-Net will provide marketing and sales support to ensure the success of the reseller, Digi-Net and the customer.
